You have difficulties finding high qualification IT or telecommunications specialist?

We will help your company to form the best team of IT specialists! Thanks to most effective recruitment tools, we will find you the best suitable candidate who suits your company's needs and expectations. We perform recruitment of highest quality specialists who exercise specific functions. For special projects we may offer you the skills of our best IT professionals.

Thanks to "BPO House" personnel recruitment service, planning of annual budget will be a breeze, as for all services only one fixed-amount bill will be issued.

Personnel recruitment services:

- Initial consultation: we find out your requirements for the new candidate, we collect information about your company's goals, organizational structure, internal culture, business area and direction.
- Preparation and placement of a job advertisement in web portals.
- Searching for potential candidates in current databases and other sources of information. We meet with potential candidates 2-3 times. During such meetings we evaluate their work experience, competences, internal motivation and personal qualities.
- We will present you the most comprehensive information about most suitable candidates, since we test their internal characteristics as well as their performance at previous jobs. Tests and testing methods depend on candidate's intended incumbency.
- We will consult you prior to interviews with selected candidates. If so desired, we will participate during such interviews.
- Placement of selected candidate.
- Keeping in touch with newly placed employees during their adaptation period.
